This winter scene was what the group that went skiing had to look forward to each morning.

Financial assistance available for students

With tuition increases scheduled for the 1982-83 school year students are urged to look into the possibility of financial aid to help meet their educational expenses.

Financial aid applications are currently available in the financial aid office located in lower Blasco Hall.

Many students do not think of applying for aid until late in the school year. Aid Director Carter Beck says, "that students should apply as early as possible since a number of the programs award their aid on a first come, first serve basis.

The Missouri Student Grant Program is one of these students who have received aid before and are seeking aid for the first time are urged to apply as soon as possible for this program in particular.

A majority of Avila students do receive some form of financial assistance from federal, state, institutional, and private sources.

If anyone has further questions they should contact the Financial Aid Office.

A report from the Summit

by Kelley McQuillan

Determined to reach Colorado before the January 3 check-in deadline, twenty-nine Avila Students set out on I-70 for an unforgettable journey. Fifteen students rode in the 4-47 passenger Kincaid buses that were loaded with students from Kansas City Area colleges and their luggage. The other eleven using transportation of their own were divided among a jeep pulling a U-Haul, a Lincoln Continental without any heat and a weighted-down Honda Civic.

Cold, tired but excited, the warm, spacious condominiums were a welcome sight to the travelers. Skis, boots and Summit passes were distributed as soon as they were able to unload their luggage. The Summit passes allowed each skier to choose one of the four mountain ranges that they would be skiing on each day. The ranges were: Arapahoe Basin, Breckenridge, Copper Mountain, and Keystone. Needless to say Breckenridge slopes tended to be the most used since they were in close proximity to the condominiums.

Snow conditions were ideal for the beginner skier. The consistent snowfall provided powdery snow to cushion those inevitable falls. Even the advanced skiers were happy for the extra support.

During the five days, temperatures dropped to a record low of thirty-eight degrees below zero. Group mathematician and accountant, Mike Kelly, whose figures aren't always accurate, figured the wind chill factor at -155 below zero. Hot chocolate, plenty of layered clothes, and blazing fires in the lodge and condominium fireplaces enabled everyone to keep comfortable.

If nothing else, people were oblivious to the cold trying to participate in all the events that the Travel Associates had planned for the group. Activities included two dances, a wine and cheese party, indoor swimming and ice skating.

Overall the whole trip turned out to be a big success. Unbelievably we all made it back on time. There were no broken bones, just a lot of sore muscles. Nursing student Cathy Ouitis summed up most of the people's feelings when she stated: "I can't wait to go again!"

A night with the stars

by Denise Kaufman

Such noted love-struck duo's as Rhett and Scarlett, Liz and Dick, and Luke and Laura may attend Avila's Valentine Eve Masquerade Ball which will be held on Saturday, February 13, 1982. Students are encouraged to invite that special someone to don a costume and dress up as a favorite romantic lead from films, fiction, or history.

The site for this gala will be the Bel-Air Clubhouse which is located at 75th and Blue Ridge Blvd. The festivities will begin at 9:00 p.m. and continue until midnight. The music will be provided by the band 'Jeopardy'. This dance which is sponsored by the SUB dance committee, is free to all Avila students and their guests.

"Warriors" on bill tonight

by Denise Kaufman

Trouble surfaces in the Big Apple, as a gang is unjustly blamed for the death of a rival leader. Tempers flare between two groups of street-wise misfits, and a violent battle for personal survival begins. "The Warriors," an explosive, action packed, teeth gritter of a film starring Michael Beck and James Remar, will be shown tonight, at 7:00 and 9:00 in the Marian Centre lounge.

A medieval flavor is brought to the screen in "Dragon-slayer," a magnificent tale of fantasy, mystery, and excitement. The film deals with a flame-spewing dragon who devours innocent fair-haired maidens and creates a state of frightening unrest in the British countryside. This classic battle between man and monster spiced with just a hint of romance, will be shown February 5, at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. in the Marian Centre lounge.

Spring elections coming March 16-18

Twenty-five student leadership positions are open for elections March 16-18, 1982. The All-Campus Spring Elections will select the Student Government Association (SGA) Chairperson, Secretary, Treasurer and 16 Senatorial positions.

Elections will determine the Student Union Board (SUB) Chairperson, Vice Chairperson and Secretary/Treasurer. The five committee chairpersons are chosen by an application/interview process following the elections.

Three positions at-large will be selected for the Student Activity Fee Board (SAFB).

Candidate qualifications are students must be members in good standing with the Avila student body and must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.0.

In addition, the Chairperson of SGA must have been a student for one year previous to his/her election and be a full-time student or a part-time student from a department which has 50 percent or more part-time majors.

Students planning on running for elective office are encouraged to complete necessary preparations as soon as possible. Nomination Petitions may be obtained from the Office of Student Life and must be filed with that office by Monday, March 8, 1982.

According to the SGA Constitution and By-Laws:

— Candidates may file only one nomination petition for an office for which they are running; however, candidates may run for more than one office so long as they choose and declare the one office they are running for one week prior to the date of election.

— The nomination petition shall bear the signatures of at least fifty members of SGA, but members of SGA may sign more than one candidate's petition.

— Student Council Executive Board candidates must submit a nominating petition bearing at least seventy-five signatures of Avila students.

— Student Council Senate candidates represent their academic department (Business and Economics, Education and Philosophy, and Social Sciences.)

— The Election Committee (student representatives of SGA, SUB and SAFB) shall supervise the elections and certify their results.

— No member of the Election Committee is eligible to run for a position on Student Council, Student Union Board, or Student Activity Fee Board.

— Any election is invalid unless twenty-five per cent of the SGA votes.

Election polls will be in both Marian Centre and O'Reilly Hall.

"It is important for candidates to actively campaign, at least posters and an Avila Examiner article and ad. A lack of campaigning leaves the voters uninformed and reluctant to vote; possibly resulting in an invalid election if less than 25% of the students vote," said Deb Volkmer, Assistant Director of Student Life Activities.

Editorial Notebook

Keeping the roads clear

The Missouri and Kansas state legislatures are currently considering bills that would impose much stiffer penalties on those convicted of driving while intoxicated than the laws that are currently on the books.

Bills in Missouri and Kansas have components that include mandatory prison stays that range from 48 hours on the first offense to several years and longer for repeated offenders. Also included is the revocation of driver's licenses for various time periods.

One can only applaud these efforts and hope that they will be followed through. It will do no good to turn these bills into law if they are not enforced in the courts.

For too long we have all heard the horror stories of drunk drivers and the trail of destruction they leave in their paths. Nearly half the traffic deaths in the nation are caused by them as are two thirds of highway accidents according to the National Highway Safety Council figures.

The results are all too predictable with families losing their members and probation officers gaining new clients. If we can keep the drunk driver off the road, families should be around longer, a few less wheelchairs should be needed, and maybe there will be some probation officers with a few less cases.

It's worth working for.

Letter-to-the-editor

To the Editor:

Some might say that this campus has lost unity. That the students have grown apathetic and self-centered. I, however, have an argument for this. I have seen Avila students get excited and not exclusively at soccer games and weekend parties. One very special incident proves this.

On Halloween night ten kids from the Rosebrook Center for Abused Women came to Ridgway Hall to trick-or-treat. Notes warning of this visit were placed on 5th and 6th floors and the response, though surprising, was over-whelming. At least 25 students gave out candy and many did much more than that.

Mark Maxiner and Russ Benedict gave chocolate chip cookies to the ghouls and goblins roaming the halls. Russ wore a pig-face mask and wiggled his nose making the kids laugh like I had never heard them laugh before. It was hard to convince the kids to leave. Bobby Yearout made the kids do pushups before he gave out his treats. Ten kids in Halloween costumes willingly hit the floor. Joe Eppy warmed up to a two-year old boy and carried on a one-sided conversation with him — Jamie loved every minute of the senseless monologue. Rick put on a monkey mask and frightened the kids when he answered their knock. Neil Kelley, a true-blue Canadian, made the kids sing "All Hail Canada" before he passed out his candy bars. Very few of the 22 rooms on 5th floor did not respond to the knocks.

When the kids made their rounds on 6th floor, they were not disappointed. Tina Crimi and Deb Kunz made popcorn balls and taught the kids a Halloween song. Kelly Yates and Lisa Gerard made ghosts out of tootsie pops and Kleenex. Jeanne Costello wrapped up assorted candy in tissue paper. Anne Schmidt set out a lighted pumpkin to surprise the trick-or-treaters.

But by far the neatest response was in the 6th floor lounge where guys and girls alike came to watch their visitors go through their sacks of candy. On a Saturday night these two floors took out time to spend a few moments with very deprived children. And I don't know who benefited more from the experience.

Maybe apathy isn't the problem on campus. Maybe, instead, the students just aren't given enough opportunity to show their true capacity for excitement.

The Hoolay-Bundshu library offers many services as well as a place to study. Robert Estell is shown working on a paper.

Library offers variety of services

by Mary F. Scallisi

What area of the campus does everyone use during their years at college? The library, of course. Avila's modern library opened on January 12, 1978 after being housed in the lower level of Blasco Hall.

Like other buildings on campus, the library was named after two benefactors: Anne Sarachon Hoolay and Judge Henry Bundschu.

Would you like to study with a group of friends in a quiet place or type a term paper? The library provides two soundproof group-study rooms and two typing rooms for students to use. A typewriter will be available in one of the typing rooms this semester.

Another feature of the library is the Audio-Visual Room which contains materials like videocassettes, filmstrips, and slides which may be used by all students.

The library recently received a Helene Fuld Nursing Grant which gave the Audio-Visual Room $8,000 in new equipment and carrels.

A new feature for the library is a file donated by Charles S. Stevenson, a member of the Board of Counselors, which gives a wealth of knowledge on Kansas City mayors and Kansas City history. The file also contains newspaper articles and pamphlets written by Mr. Stevenson. This collection is housed by the A-V Room.

The main attraction of any library is the books. Students may check out books for 14 days, while special materials may be loaned for overnight or 7-day use.

A fine of five cents per day is levied for each overdue book, with records and reserve materials having higher fines because they are more in demand.

Students may renew books for as long a time as they wish unless there is a request for their book.

The library is open Monday-Thursday from 8 a.m.-10:30 p.m., Friday from 8:00-4:30, Saturday from 11:00-4:00 p.m., and Sunday from 4:00 p.m.-10:00 p.m.

Help with writing skills now available

The College Skills Center is offering Avila students a variety of assistance to strengthen their writing abilities. These sessions are offered without charge to students. Two new services are available this semester.

The writing lab: sessions are open to all students who would like to improve their basic writing skills. Material to be covered includes grammar review, punctuation, paragraphing, outlining, common errors, sentence structure, confusing words, and footnotes/bibliographies. No special enrollment or registration is required. Students may attend any or all sessions and may enter the program at any time during the semester. The Writing Lab will be held in Room 105 on Monday evenings from 7:00 - 8:00.

Paper writing assistance: sessions will provide all interested students with individual, personalized help in planning, researching, organizing, writing, proof-reading, correcting, and documenting papers for their classes. Both the Modern Language Association and the American Psychological Association documentation formats will be explained. This assistance is available every Monday evening from 6:00 - 7:00 p.m. in Room 105.

Two successful programs from previous semesters are again being offered.

Tutoring sessions: All students currently enrolled in EN015, 028 or 111 can attend supplemental instruction in these writing courses. Assistance is provided in writing papers, understanding course material, reviewing grammar and usage, and preparing for exams. These sessions will be held on Wednesdays and Fridays from 10:00-10:50 in room 507.

Individual appointments: Students who would like individual assistance can arrange regular meetings with members of the College Skills Center staff. For further information or an appointment, contact Mary Steward in lower-level Blasco Hall or at 942-8400, extension 266.

Avalanche rolls the Rock 60-58 Plays Evangel tomorrow night

by Mark Johnson

A new and illustrious chapter was added to the Avila basketball history book when the Avalanche downed the Rockhurst Hawks 60-58 at Rockhurst.

It was Avila's 2nd win in a row against a top rated team. Earlier in the week Avila upset Drury which shared the NAIA District 16 No. 1 rating with Rockhurst.

All-American candidate Mark Hatchett authored the victory over Rockhurst along with the mad bombers at guard, Jim Donnelly, Darrek Porter, and Bob Harbin. Hatchett finished with 21 points and 12 rebounds while Donnelly, Porter, and Harbin combined for 26 points.

The game played before a capacity crowd saw the lead change hands four times in the first half until Avila's Baxter Jones hit a baseline jumper to give his team an 18-17 advantage with 6:23 remaining. From that point on Avila held the lead.

Taking advantage of Hawk turnovers the Avalanche pulled in front 42-30 midway through the second half. Rockhurst came back in the final minutes outscoring Avila 11-4. It was too little, too late as Hatchett and Harbin each sank a pair of free throws for Avila's fourth win in a row.

Avila sank 7 of 8 free throws in the final two minutes to upset No. 1 rated Drury 65-62. The victory moves the Avalanche into a strong contenders role for the district 16 championship.

Ralph Burton, Jim Donnelly and Fred Haney played starring roles off the bench for Avila by scoring 19 of Avila's 33 points in the second half, including the last seven free throws.

Drury pulled out to a 42-36 lead right after the half. Darrek Porter took care of that by stealing two Drury passes and feeding them to his teammates for lay-ins. Ralph Burton tied the game at 42-42 with a long jump shot. Burton then hit another jump shot from the corner to give his team the lead at the 14:20 mark. After that Avila never trailed in the game.

Mark Hatchett was the big gun for the Avalanche in the first half hitting 6 of 11 shots for 12 points and 8 rebounds. Hatchett finished the game with 18 points and 12 rebounds. Fred Haney finished with 11 points, hitting 5 of 8 shots from the floor.

As a team, Avila hit 26 of 65 field goals. At the free throw line they were nearly perfect, making 13 of 15.

Avila came into the game with back to back wins against Mid-America and Evangel.

The Avalanche downed Mid-America 75-59. Avila trailed at the half 33-32. That was the last time they were to trail in the game as they scored 12 straight points to take control of the game. Mark Hatchett scored 20 points while pulling down 12 rebounds.

Evangel fell to Avila 73-66. Baxter Jones and Hatchett put Avila in front early by scoring 17 of their team's first 21 points to take a 21-10 lead. Jones finished the night with 23 points and 12 rebounds.

Avila soccer players named All-American

Avila soccer players Anthony Christian, Joe Schrick, and John Purpura have earned All-American honors for their performances this past season.

Schrick and Christian were most recently named to the National Soccer Coaches All-American team for NAIA schools. The junior forward Schrick was named to the first team, while junior goalie Christian was named to the second team.

Earlier Christian was named to the NAIA All-American second team while Schrick made honorable mention.

Purpura was named to the NAIA Academic All-American team for his performance in the classroom and on the field.

The honors don't stop there for Avila players. Mike Auck was named to the All-Midwest team along with Schrick and Christian.

Named to the All-District 16 first team were Tom Zahner, Jack Tracy and Neil Madigan along with Schrick and Auck. Craig Kasten was named to the second team. Avila placed the maximum number possible on the District 16 teams.

Lady Avalanche seeks to sink the Pirates

by Mark Johnson

Tonight the Lady Avalanche travels to Park College looking for their second win against the Pirates this season. Avila won the first meeting 80-44. Tip-off is set for 7:30.

Rockhurst stopped Avila 48-40. Kathy Hale had a season high 14 points for the Avalanche but it wasn't enough as the Hawks outrebounded Avila 53-39 to control the game underneath the basket.

Darby Chambers hit a 25ft shot at the buzzer to pull her team within three at the half, 22-19. The Avalanche took the lead 27-26 when Hale stole a Rockhurst pass and fed the ball to Chambers for a lay-up. The Hawks started using their size underneath to take the lead and the game.

Avila opened the second half of their season with a 99-48 loss to UMKC. The Kangaroos jumped on the Avalanche early and kept the pressure on the entire game. Despite the score Coach Barbara Burt felt this was one of the best games her team has played this season.

Darby Chambers led the Avalanche in scoring with 21 points against the nation's #12 team in NAIA. Donna Babich was also in double figures with 10 points in the game. Chambers led in rebounding with 10.

A cold spell hit inside and outside Mabee fieldhouse when Benedictine came to play the Lady Avalanche. Benedictine stayed on the warmer side by winning the game 61-45.

Outside the temperature was a dismal -10 below 0. Inside Avila was just as cold, hitting only 11 of 71 shots from the floor.

Chambers was the only Avila player in double figures with 10 points. Marcia Huss pulled down 14 rebounds in a losing effort.

At this point in the season Chambers is leading Avila in scoring with 14.4 points per game. Susan Sulzer, Marcia Huss, and Linda Nelson are all averaging around 7 points per game.

The School of the Ozarks game that had been scheduled for January 12th has been rescheduled for February 17 at 5:00 as part of a double-header with the Avila men playing Benedictine at 7:45. The Rockhurst women's team will play at Avila on February 7 at 5:00 in place of the January 23rd game.

From the Bench

A tale in the making

by Mark Johnson

Unlike Mother Goose's fairytale, Cinderella teams are not created in the twinkling of an eye. Just ask the Kansas City Comets.

Backstage preparations are currently underway to transform this pumpkin of a team into a prince of a team.

Maestro McBride has sent out a call throughout the soccer kingdom in search of leading players. Players from near and far have answered the call, hoping for a role in this fairytale in the making.

The curtain isn't quite ready to be raised yet as there are still several roles looking for players. Once the cast is set there is still the matter of timing, a problem they are familiar with already. If only the audience can be patient, the results should be worth the wait.

The wicked stepdaughters are already at the ball, but for Cinderella the coach has not even arrived yet. She has still to meet Prince Charming and then leave him. The fitting of the glass slipper will take quite a while — but we all know how it ends, don't we?
